Legion Auxiliary Entertains Group of Ladies From Gleichen

Some nineteen members of the Gleichen Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion were guests of the Strathmore Auxiliary on Tuesday evening when a Hallowe'en party was held in the Memorial Hall. Altogether about sixty-two ladies at tended.

Fourteen tables of court were in play during the evening, and winners of high places were Mrs. W. Weyers and Mrs. Louis Peterson, while low titles went to Mrs. Bushby and Miss Ruby Yarne. The name of the winning team on the donkey was won by Mrs. Jack Bennett. Two mystery prizes were awarded during the evening, winners being Mrs. Maynard Conibear and Miss Jean Backs.

The tables were all tastefully decorated in Hallowe'en style all through, and when supertime came, the tables were loaded with Hallowe'en candies and other decorations. Each lady wore a pumpkin card with her name, eliminating the necessity of introducing all names.

During the evening, Mrs. Ian Mackenzie presented presidents of each branch with a lovely corsage of carnations. Mrs. Wm. Tew, president of Strathmore's Branch, presented a little memento to Miss Jean Backs, who is leaving to the British Isles.

It was stated during the evening that the campaign for funds for the blind had netted to date the sum of $557, and was still open for a short time.

Jean Backs Moves To Calgary Bank

Word was received at the Strathmore Branch of the Royal Bank on Tuesday that Miss Jean Backs is to be transferred to the Hillhurst Branch of the bank in Calgary. The move is effective Monday.

Miss Backs has been a member of the local staff for seven years, and latterly had served in the position of accountant. She grew up on a farm just north of town, and prior to serving with the bank had been employed at the telephone office, Palaray Transport, and in the Wheatland School office.

Miss Backs has been actively associated with the Ladies Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion, serving as auditor of that group since its inception. She was also president for the past two years of the local Catholic Youth Organization, and she has served in various capacities with the Senior Young People's group and on the Handicraft club.

Customers at the bank will miss Jean, who was always ready to help with a smile, and who has a host of friends among her customers. No word has been received as yet of a replacement, but it is considered likely that someone will be coming shortly.

Rockyford Grain Clubbers Get Tour to Help Training

Arrangements were made last week whereby two members of the Rockyford Junior Grain Club, Jim Miller and Melvin Heinzeiner, will have more than a week of running around the country gaining experience, and learning many of the finer points in connection with the judging and the certifying of seed wheat. Jim and Melvin, who are the representatives of the club who will be competing in the Toronto Royal in a short time, are working under arrangements made by R. J. Mihigan, district agriculturist and mentor of the club, and G. S. Black, director of junior activities for the provincial department.

Crusaders Coming

"The Diocesan Crusade for Christ" is the name given to an evangelistic effort in the Anglican Diocese of Calgary. Under this plan, teams of two clergymen are to visit six of the rural centres in the Diocese and there will conduct a four day Crusade.

Coming to Strathmore will be the Rev. W. E. Askew of Calgary and the Rev. J. A. Roberts of Mirror. They will be in the evening services in St. Michael's from October 31st until November 3rd. The Sunday service will be at 7:30 p.m., while the other week-night services will be at 8:00 p.m.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

A. Porteous Loses Barn, Car in Fire

Fire of unknown origin caused the loss of both car and garage for Mr. Alex Porteous, a short distance north of Strathmore on Friday of last week. The fire was discovered by a neighbour who was driving by, but it was impossible to check the progress of the flames, and both were lost. The car was a 1946 model Ford.

It is thought that the only possible cause must have been a short circuit which finally overheated, causing the car to catch fire. It had been parked for some time, and no one had been near the garage for more than a day.

No stock or poultry are kept there and no further loss was sustained.

Fire at Hussar Threatens School

Rubbish Fire Burns Grass in all Schoolyard

by Mrs. M. C. B.

On Sunday a rubbish fire started back of one of the teacherages, got away and threatened the school buildings. The siren summoned the men of Hussar, and they managed to get it out before any of the buildings were burned though it swept through the school yard. Luckily the wind was not very strong, or else it would have been out of control. With everything tinder dry, no fires should be started or four days at the University of Alberta Field Crops Branch, where they will observe many of the laboratory procedures, and other phases through which the seeds are put for certification and testing.

It is hoped that the course the boys are to get will help them considerably when they appear in the national competitions at Toronto.

Small Fire Break At Nu-Way Cafe

Firemen Prevent More Than Minor Damage

Considerable excitement was occasioned on Monday when a chimney fire at the Nu-Way Cafe started a section of the roof on fire. The fire brigade responded quickly, and little damage was occasioned.

The fire broke out in the top structure of the high front over the roof, as a result of a chimney spark from the stove in the front part of the cafe. A small hole was burned, and several boards in the front were damaged, but there was little trouble otherwise. Chemicals were used to extinguish the blaze, which was well under control when the fire hose was brought up from the hydrant, and the pumping station at the lake brought into play.

Another small blaze took place on Sunday afternoon, in the grass between Ridsdon's Machine Shop and the Potter house. Spread of this fire was also quickly averted, and no damage was occasioned in this instance.

even to burn up rubbish.

Several combines passed through the village on Thursday, heralding the end of the harvesting in this community. Only a very few farmers have a little left to harvest. The grain has averaged about 20 bushels per acre, and on the whole has been of good grade. It is estimated that 300,000 bushels of wheat, and 100,000 bushels of other grains have been hauled in to the elevators, and the five elevators are filled to capacity, even with the two new annexes. (The figures were given by one of the grain buyers.)

The graveling on the road north of Hussar has ceased. It extends to the L. F. Snyder road, but the road work is continuing north. Road work is being done almost to Wayne, and it is hoped that this road will be gravelled before long. Work is continuing on the main highway west of Hussar, beginning about ten miles out.

While the weather became much colder on Friday, there was no snow and no rain. The dust is very bad and rain is greatly needed now.

Hussar Ladies Plan Kiddies Playground

Also Hear Talk About Rationing in Britain

The Hussar Ladies Aid met at the home of Mrs. Rose Brown, on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Evelyn Snyder assisting hostess. The president, Mrs. T. Burdett, the secretary, Mrs. C. P. English, and the treasurer, Mrs. H. Buckschmidt, and fifteen members and visitors were present. Among the chief business a motion was passed to devote as much as $100.00 to the preparation of a play ground for pre-school children, also it was decided to send a parcel to a needy person in England.

The program consisted of a talk by Mrs. P. Pringle on her recent trip to England and Scotland; this she illustrated by pictures, and by bringing the amount of rationed food for one person per week, on one hand, to illustrate the severity of the ration over there. The contests were won by Mrs. C. P. English and Mrs. G. Sutras and Mrs. H. Saunders won the door prize. Next meeting on Nov. 11th will be at the home of Mrs. J. Juras.

Young Percy Law had the misfortune of falling off a fence on Thursday and dislocating his forearm. He was taken to Bassano for surgical treatment.

Preparing For Rat Invasion of Area

Those parts of Western Canada on the edge of the "rat belt" are getting a complete education on rat lore through the progressive newspapers these days. The subject is one of paramount importance since it is estimated that the invasion of the rats will be on us, unless proper preventative methods are completed, within the next five years.

Incinerators for the sanitary disposal of all garbage and waste is being advocated strongly in Calgary and Winnipeg at the moment. The theory behind this suggestion is that the rats first arrive at the refuse dumping area and then after a long period of breeding move into the local residential section.

At Winnipeg, the ultimate plan for the disposal of refuse is through three incinerators; as each goes into operation the dumps will be fenced off to prevent rats from spreading into the city. Rat exterminators, it is planned, will deal effectively with those in the man-made compounds.

The present campaign against rat invasion is a most serious matter and one that cannot be driven home too forcefully. Students of the subject are certain that once the advance guard have arrived only immediate action could prevent a

Dangerous Heresy

(From Printed Word)

Mr. Luder Dicke, a Liberal member of Parliament from Quebec would have created a sensation in the House of Commons on the last day of the 1948 Session, if there had been enough members in the House who could follow a French speech, or more than a handful of members at all. What he said months ago is still good.

Mr. Dicke was criticising the proceedings of the Prices Committee. In particular, he wanted to know why, when the Committee had some labor leaders before it, it had not undertaken to ask them some serious questions about the cause of high prices. He said, for example, that they might have been asked about the case of bricklayers, who, he said, now lay 350 bricks a day, for which they receive $1.20 to $1.50 per hour, when a few years ago they laid between 1,000 and 1,200 bricks a day for 60 cents per hour.

Mr. Dicke seemed to think that this might have something to do with the cost of building.

If this sort of thing continues,

Parliament is going to be an unpleasant sort of place. If a parliamentary committee is expected to ask questions which might annoy organized labor the situation will become disagreeable indeed.

If he goes on asking questions of this type, voters in Canada might be encouraged to think, driving along in his car on the highway he was lighting up his pipe and, as he heard the sound of a two-cent, two-cent, went up the bowl of his brand-new pipe. Somewhat mystified, he began to wonder just how long his unknown enemy was going to keep out the feed. Thirstily he got out a spare pipe, lit it and, as he inhaled the smoke with his favorite weed, when well packed he began to feel round in his pockets for another match and encountered several twenty-two shells. That set him thinking. Then he took his empty brand-new pipe and there nestling in the bowl was a twenty-two shell. He doesn't carry his pipe in his pocket any more.

The Obsolete Bushel

McArthur Babes Wear Century Old Gown at Recent Christening

By misadventure, the Gleichen news did not arrive on time, but we feel the Gleichen readers will be anxious to read the items, even late.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacArthur was christened in Gleichen recently. He was born in the spring and his godparents were Oliver Corboll and Florence Gheban. After the christening, the party had dinner at the home of the baby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacArthur. The infant's mother wore a brocade gown over one hundred years old, it being his paternal great-grandmother's dress, passed on to each generation as a treasure to her heirloom.

Mrs. E. R. Bannatyne was housekeeper for the party and Mrs. Leo Reid for the refreshments.

Dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Beaudre were Mr. and Mrs. Angus McLeay, Mrs. E. R. Bannatyne, Mrs. de Forest, and daughter Rose.

Negative thinking is likewise typical of all the people who are habitual fault-finders, indecisive, lazy, defeatist and over-cautious. They act as brakes against the world's progress.

Yes, we need more folks who accentuate the positive. And they themselves are happier, more successful in their work and enjoy better relationships with others!

Baintree Showers Local Young Couple

November 6 has been fixed for the date of the wedding of Miss Mary Lou Rudd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erie Rudd, of Calgary, and Mr. William A. Lyons, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Lyons, of Strathmore. On Friday evening Oct. 15, they were entertained with a dinner held at the Baintree community hall, when nearly 300 friends attended and enjoyed themselves dancing until the small hours of the night. The bride was dressed in a gown decorated with a table filled with many useful and beautiful presents including a full set of silver and a purse. Mr. William McMillan acted as best man and Mr. Lyons and Mr. Rudd each responded gratefully. Miss Rudd was furnished by the Edgar orchestra. During the evening Miss Shirley Logan gave a nice accordion number.

The Namaka W.A. held their regular meeting at Mrs. O. Wheeler's home last Thursday. Mrs. E. Baker took charge of the devotional period. It was decided to have a Boys' Supper and Bazaar on Nov. 11. Mr. J. Gossen will act as secretary for the remainder of the year. The hostess served very dainty lunch. The next meeting will be held in Strathmore at Mrs. O. Wheeler's new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Peterson and family spent Sunday at Cluny with Mr. and Mrs. E. Watson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Biggar entertained a few friends on Monday evening in honor of Allan's first birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Perrault are now living on the Geo. Peterson farm.

Andy Thomson left the hospital last week. He is expected home one day this week.

His Name in the Papers

"Are you the editor that takes in the society news?" inquired the undersized little man with an appealing look who called at The Standard office.

"Yes sir" replied the man at the desk, "I take any kind of news. What have you got?"

"Why it's this way" said the caller, lowering his voice. "My wife gave a party last night and I'm willing to pay to have this report put in."

"We don't charge for society news" observed the man at the desk taking the proffered manuscript.

"But you don't understand" said the little man. "I wrote this up myself and want it to go in exactly as I wrote it. I put in a line to say 'Mr. McSwattee assisted his distinguished wife in receiving the guests'. I don't care if you charge me a dollar for it. I'd like my friends to know by gum, that I still live at that house and Iwas at the party too."

Customer at King Edward Grill:
"Call the manager. I never saw anything as tough as this steak."

"You will, sir," replied Gladys Crelin, "if you call the manager."

Melancholy Aunt Clara had the habit of listening to the big clock on the Town Hall in the town where she was visiting and exclaiming every time it struck: "Eternity draws one hour nearer."

Little Bert Roberts was very much impressed with that solemn reflection. One day the big clock got out of order. While repairing it the workmen made it strike every few minutes, and Bert heard it with bulging eyes.

"Oh, Aunt Clara," he said, excitedly, "eternity has got a move on today."

"My opponent is sadly behind the times. What does he promise? Higher wages....lower taxes....world peace. The very things I promised you ten years ago."

Two Scotswomen happened to meet in the street. One was carrying a parcel, and was asked by the other what it was.

"Oh, it's some ham," was the reply. "I always buy ham at Sandy's store."

The other thought she would try some ham, and off she went to Sandy's store.

"I want some ham," she said.

"What kind?" asked the shopkeeper.

"Oh, the same as Mrs. Macdonald gets."

The shopkeeper smiled, and leaning confidently over the counter, asked:

"Whaur's yer bottle?"

WORLD TIMBER SUPPLIES BEING DEPLETED

Existing world supplies of timber are being steadily exhausted, according to a report presented at a recent meeting of the Royal Society of Arts, in London, England. European countries cut 21 percent more timber than the estimated annual growth in 1946, while the cut in the United States was almost 50 percent in excess of the growth. Canada was reported in a more favorable position, though there was little or no surplus, while the cut in the U.S.S.R. was believed to be about equal to the annual growth in accessible forests.

PEPPER JELLY

Quite some time ago, one of our readers wanted a recipe for pepper jelly and about three weeks ago another reader gave us this set of directions, saying doily, "I don't know what they are going to do for pectin. Personally, I used a canapple juice to set the jelly, so mine isn't exactly like the recipe."

That little gibe went right home, believe us. We hit the roof every time someone tells us about a swell recipe they have for something and then remarks, in brackets so to speak, "Now I make it exactly like the recipe, except . . ."

However here's the recipe for pepper jelly.

2 cups ground sweet peppers, 5½ cups granulated sugar, 1 cup diluted vinegar, one third cup lemon juice, 1 bottle pectin.

Wash peppers; remove tongue, seeds and stems. Grind or chop fine. Measure pulp and juice. Place pepper meat and juice, sugar and vinegar in kettle; heat rapidly to boiling point, stirring continuously. Remove from heat, let stand 15 minutes.

Reheat to boiling, add lemon juice, boil 2 minutes. Remove from heat, add pectin, stir occasionally for 5 minutes. Pour into glasses; cover with melted parawax. Let stand for at least two weeks before using.

EXACTLY LIKE THE RECIPE

Speaking of this business of the very experienced cooks who blithely tell you how to make things and expect you to know about all the little twists that go along with good cooking, Mary Powell tells an amusing story about her early experiences in cooking.

She asked her mother-in-law one day for the recipe of some pickles that the elder lady seemed to make superlatively well. The recipe duly delivered to her, Mary followed the directions to the letter but somehow or other she didn't get quite the result she had expected. One day she asked the elder Mrs. Powell about the matter and the latter answered in astonishment, "Oh, but I NEVER make it exactly like the recipe." That's the kind of thing that makes young cooks beat themselves over the head with their cookbooks.

QUIET A BIT

And that reminds us that anyone at all interested in cooking should read "Chicken Every Sunday" by Rosemary Taylor. She writes of her mother's cooking with considerable zest and she had the same trouble in getting from her female parent exactly how much of this and that the other went into the wonder-about two thirds of this bowl." Rosemary usually gave up at that point.

"Chicken, Every Sunday," isn't just about cooking but somehow every chapter seems to ring in a good deal about food, or perhaps it would be more correct to say, a bit." "But how much?" "Well, deal of good food.

2. Loss of power in the joint.
3. Fixity of the joint. The limb cannot be moved at the joint either by the patient or by the First-Aider.
4. Deformity of the limb. The limb assumes an unnatural position, and is mis-shaped at the joint.
5. Swelling about the joint.

TREATMENT:

MAKE NO ATTEMPT TO REDUCE A DISLOCATION.

1. Steadily support the limb in the position which gives most ease to the patient, using padding where necessary in order to lessen the effects of jolting during transport.
2. Rest the patient on a couch or bed in the position which gives most ease.
3. If the pain is severe, expose the injured part and apply a cold compress.
4. When cold ceases to give comfort, apply a hot compress.

BRUISES:

A blow anywhere on the surface of the body may cause extensive capillary haemorrhage beneath the skin, without breaking it — a "black eye" is an instance. The injury is accompanied by discoloration and swelling.

TREATMENT:

Apply pieces of flut soaked in equal parts of spirit and water, or a cold compress.

Many Friends Attend at VanLoo-Dahl Wedding Rites

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in the St. Magdalen's Church by the Rev. Brown on Wednesday, Oct. 6 between Marilyn Cecilia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. VanLoo of Newdale and Jimmie, son of Mr. and Mrs. VanLoo of Drumheller. It was a double wedding ceremony. The church was beautifully decorated with basket of Gladoli.

The bride, looking charming in a beautiful white brocade gown with a long train, net yoke and lily point sleeves and carrying a bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums, was given in marriage by her father. She was attended by her three sisters. Mrs. Niel Holmes and Mrs. Bob Williams were matrons of honor and Carolyn was bridesmaid. Beverly wore a gown of pale green taffeta. Shirley wore an apricot colored gown, while Carolyn wore a blue gown. They each wore matching lace hats and carried floral muffs.

During the signing of the register Miss Jean Macab rendered the song "Bless This House" very beautiful.

A reception was held in the Rose Room of the Corner Cafe, Drumheller, with Mrs. C. P. Dahl and Mrs. VanLoo receiving about 100 guests. Miss Ted Koenig, local radio personality, toasts to the bride, which was responded to by the groom. Their honeymoon was spent at Banff, after which the happy couple will be at home to their friends at their residence at Drumheller.
